

A series of ten horizontal grey bars, stacked vertically, serving as a template for text or content.

News Corp and its business units maintain memberships in relevant industry trade organizations to advance the Company's commercial and policy objectives. These groups represent multiple members and thus may not always align perfectly with our positions. We believe that, on balance, News Corp's participation in these organizations provides great value.

Based upon information reported to us for 2023, the amount of the Company's payments to these organizations attributable to lobbying and political activity was approximately $322,000.

The trade associations to which News Corp paid more than $25,000 in dues in 2023:

News Media Alliance

Digital Content Next

Association of American Publishers

Interactive Advertising Bureau

News Corp and its business units made contributions to the following 501(c)(4) in 2023:

Copyright Alliance

News Corp engages in lobbying activity on important public policy issues at the federal and state levels through the work of Company employees and outside consultants. We believe that by communicating with government officials, we expenditures associated with lobbying activity, as defined by the Lobbying Disclosure Act, the New York State Lobbying Act, New York City Administrative Code and Title 51 of the Rules of the City of New York.

News Corp advocated on a wide array of policy issues impacting the Company, including competition and antitrust policy, generative AI issues, privacy, digital advertising, intellectual property and copyright, Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act, trade, and press freedom and journalist safety.

News Corp Giving was launched at the Company's inception in 2013, and since that time, the Company has e pany has e pany has e pany hasPe n timel 5